

About the Periodical

The Indian Chemical Society has undertaken the task of bringing out a Periodical (Book series with ISBN) entitled "Education in Chemical Science and Technology" under its banner. The objective of the Periodical is to publish lucidly written and illustrated articles on themes cutting across Chemical Sciences and Industry that in turn will reflect the wide spread of Chemistry into other territories of Physics and Biology alike sciences. It is no longer a great exaggeration to say that Chemistry in one form or another is now spread over much of Science. The target readers of the Periodical will be anyone - Teachers and Students finding interest in Chemistry – specially Graduate and Post Graduate Students as well as Research Scholars in all areas that have links to Chemical Sciences and Technology. The goals of the Periodical set up by the Indian Chemical Society are certainly achievable, and if the purpose is served then it will be a real positive development in favour of the Society at large.

We earnestly call upon all in Academia and Industries to come forward to extend their helping hands as a reader, a contributor, a constructive critic or in other ways so that this endeavour may come full fruition. We look forward to the goal.
